Edward Clark Esq.
Architect.

Dear Sir:

We have made a careful examination of the heating apparatus in the Corcoran Art Gallery, and School of Arts, and find to heat the building in a satisfactory manner, or to 70° Fahrenheit, in zero weather, it will be necessary to furnish and place twelve hundred (1200) additional square feet of heating surface, disconnect the Indirect Radiators, and reconstruct the casings for same, making a hot air space over radiators of 8" inch, and a cold air space of 8" inch. under radiators.

It will also be necessary to place an automatic air valve on one of the two radiators in each stack, now in place, as the radiators are now placed, there is not sufficient air space, either over, or under radiators for the proper flow of air. There is also only one air valve for the discharge of air from each stack of two radiators which is not proper, because one radiator will take circulation before the other, and the expansion will cause the air valve to close off before the other radiator is circulating, thereby not getting full benefit of the heating surface.

We also propose to repack the joints on the present Indirect radiators, reline the two fire boxes, with fire brick, and furnish and place one 42" inch cast iron Dead plate for our boiler. The one now in place being useless, having burnt out; Also repair brick work of boiler setting. We propose to make the above changes, and guarantee the apparatus to heat the buildings to 70° Fahrenheit during the coldest weather, for the sum of Fifteen hundred and Seventy two ($1572.00) Dollars. Trusting we may be favored with the contract, we remain Crocron Gallery of Art.

Dear Mr. Kauffmann -

It has always been my impression that the Gallery desired a good specimen of Andr. Achenbach & I have always kept out a weather eye for one. I found a splendid one in the possession of Moreheuser (a dealer who has come up since I left Düsseldorf) I asked him to send me a photo which he has done but it gives little idea of the picture except the composition

The most marvellous sky is entirely lost. It is stormy & full of fine drawing of clouds & color & although painted in 1848 is in perfect condition & will remain so. The size without frame is 81 x 120 centimeters. about 32 $\frac{1}{2}$  x 48 in Price 15000 Mk about \$3750.00 cheap as his pictures sell & especially pictures of this period, which are very scarce indeed. The last ten years he has been flooding the world with hurried pictures painted for money alone. At the period of this he worked for other ends & attained them. He must have spent as much time on this picture (which is exquisitely finished) as was on three. The picture loses nothing of its strength from the finish. It is one of the best I have seen for years & I can heartily recommend it.

I do not know Morckhausen personally & so cannot give an opinion as to the probability of his taking it.

Yours very respectfully

E. F. Andrews
